

"DANCING IN HEAVEN"

My mother and father loved to dance
Music was in their soul
It kept them young as the years rolled on
Their song never grew old

I felt the world fall silent
When i heard they'd passed away
But then from out of nowhere
A song began to play...

Are you dancing in heaven tonight ?
Holding each other so tight
Just like you did all those magic nights before
Moving to the rhythm of love
And though I `m gonna miss you so much
I know you `ll be alright
Cause you're dancing in heaven tonight

Now there's a place inside my heart
Where the music never ends
And anytime the teardrops start
I go back there again

I watch you dance together
The way it used to be
And then I know that love's a song
That lasts for all eternity

Are you dancing in heaven tonight ?
Holding each other so tight
Just like you did all those magic nights before
Moving to the rhythm of love
And though I `m gonna miss you so much
I know you `ll be alright
Cause you're dancing in heaven tonight

Are you dancing in heaven tonight ?
Holding each other so tight
Stepping in time across the starlit floor
Moving to the rhythm of love
And though we're gonna miss you so much
We know you `ll be alright
Cause you're dancing in heaven tonight
